

What You Need To Know About The Every Woman's Life Program

Every Woman's Life

For Your Breast and Cervical Health

The Every Woman's Life program helps low-income, uninsured women between the ages of 18-64.

What services are covered?

The Every Woman's Life program will pay for:

- Your clinic visit (including showing you how to examine your breasts);
- Breast and cervical screening exams; and
- Some extra tests, if your screening exams shows that more information is needed.

What screening exams are provided?

The following four exams are performed by a doctor or nurse:

- Clinical Breast Exam

Your doctor or nurse will look at your breasts and feel for any lumps or other problems. This is an important exam, and should be done every year. This is a good time to tell your doctor or nurse if you are having any problems.

- Mammogram

A mammogram is an x-ray of your breast. Mammograms are very safe, and should be done every year if you are over age 40.

- Pelvic Exam

A pelvic exam is when your doctor or nurse will feel your female organs from the inside. You should have a pelvic exam every year.

- Pap Test

Your doctor or nurse will look at your cervix during the pelvic exam and take some cells. The cells will be sent to a lab to be tested.

What Happens If You Need Extra Tests?

- Sometimes after a screening exam your doctor will need more information.
- Your doctor or nurse will talk more about the tests you need, and how they can help you.
- You may be afraid of having more tests, but the information is very important. This is why you should have all of the tests you need done.
- Most of the tests will be paid for, but some tests are not. Ask your doctor or nurse if you will have to pay for any tests.

What if you have breast or cervical cancer?

- If you have breast or cervical cancer, you may be eligible to have your treatment paid for by Medicaid.
- You will have to pay a small fee for Medicaid services. For example, the charge for a clinic visit may be $1.
- When you are done with your treatment, your Medicaid coverage will end. At that time, you may be eligible to re-enroll in the Every Woman's Life program.
