COVID-19 Treatments

Evaluate your risk for severe illness

If you are at higher risk for developing severe COVID-19 illness, early treatment may help you.

Treatments are available for COVID-19

There are COVID-19 treatments to help prevent severe illness, hospitalization, and death. Certain treatments can help prevent people from getting sick after they are exposed to the virus. Other treatments can help people with mild to moderate symptoms from becoming severely ill or needing to be hospitalized. Currently, medicines for the treatment of COVID-19 are in limited supply, but more will become available.

Talk to your healthcare provider about treatment options

COVID-19 medications require a prescription. So, if you have a positive COVID-19 test result or have been recently exposed to someone with COVID-19, you should talk to your healthcare provider to learn more about your treatment options. If you are prescribed medication for COVID-19, use the COVID-19 Treatment Locator to find a treatment site nearest you.
