Terminal Competency Psychomotor Exam

All students in BLS programs must have successfully completed a terminal competency psychomotor examination which allows the Program Director and Medical Director to validate entry-level psychomotor competency. This exam is to be conducted through competency based critical thinking scenarios as approved by the program’s EMS Physician.

Cognitive Examinations

1. Cognitive examinations are administered by the National Registry of EMT’s. In order to sit for the cognitive exam, a student must have been marked for successful completion of their initial course by their Program Director PRIOR to being issued a National Registry of EMT’s (NREMT) Authorization to Test Letter (ATT).
2. The National Registry of EMT’s has implemented computer based testing (CBT) for its cognitive tests. CBT strengthens the NREMT's commitment to serving the EMS community and providing a valid and reliable exam process. It also provides numerous benefits to candidates, educators, and others in the EMS community as well as the public, including:
  - a. More accurate, precise and fair evaluation of candidates' competency
  - b. Increased EMS professionalism
  - c. In most cases, next business day exam results
  - d. Increased scheduling flexibility
  - e. Fortified examination security
3. Candidates will apply to take the NREMT cognitive exam through the NREMT website.
  - a. Once the candidate has made application, the Program Director is responsible for verifying course completion which will allow the Authorization To Test letter (ATT) letter to generate.

- b. Once the candidate is authorized to test and has an ATT letter, they will contact Pearson VUE by internet (if by telephone a fee will be charged for customer service support)
  - i. Candidates, when applying for their cognitive exam have the opportunity to select whether they would like to take their exam face-to-face exams at a Pearson VUE Testing Center or a remotely proctored exam on Pearson OnVUE.
    - o Face-to-face Cognitive Exam (Pearson VUE Test Center)
      - a. Students can search for open Pearson VUE Test Centers near them by clicking this link:
<https://wsr.pearsonvue.com/testtaker/registration/SelectExamPage/NREMT?conversationId=1218760>
    - o Remotely Proctored Exam on Pearson OnVUE
      - a. To learn more about Pearson OnVUE Remote Proctored Exams by visiting: <https://home.pearsonvue.com/nremt/onvue>
4. For BLS certification, NREMT has chosen to make use of a computer adaptive test (CAT). An “adaptive test” presents the candidate with items that will be most informative for measuring ability. Each testing experience is unique to the individual being tested and the exam is tailored to the ability of the candidate. In CAT, the computer determines with at least 95% certainty that:
  - a. the candidate’s ability is either above or below the passing standard, OR
  - b. the candidate receives a maximum number of items, OR
  - c. the candidate runs out of time.Every time the candidate answers a question, the computer estimates the candidate’s ability. With every additional answer, the ability estimate gets more precise. Based upon the most recent, revised ability estimate, the computer selects the next item to be presented, such that the candidate will find it challenging. There is no minimum percentage of items correct to pass. Every candidate will be challenged to the limit of his/her ability. Candidates will not receive exam results at the test center. In most cases, exam results will be available the next business day on the NREMT website.
5. Emergency Medical Responder Candidates
  - a. EMR candidates are allowed three (3) opportunities to pass the cognitive examination provided all other requirements for national registration are met. Should a candidate fail the third and final attempt of the cognitive examination, the candidate must complete another complete First Responder/Emergency Medical Responder course.
