

HOW SHOULD I KEEP MY TEETH HEALTHY DURING COVID-19?

With many families working and learning from home and adjusting to new routines, it's easy to put aside our dental health. Here are a few tips from Smiles For Children and the Virginia Health Catalyst to help keep your teeth healthy at home:

- + Wash your hands – aim for at least 20 seconds before and after brushing and flossing
- + Brush at least twice a day – be sure to get those hard-to-reach spots
- + Floss once a day – this helps remove bacteria and plaque in places your toothbrush can't reach
- + Eat a well-balanced diet – limit sticky, sugary snacks like cake and cookies
- + Limit snacking – snacking often increases your risk of cavities
- + Limit sugary drinks – soda and fruit juices can harm tooth surfaces
- + Drink plenty of water – drink water with meals and between meals
- + Avoid smoking – smoking limits blood flow to your mouth, making it easier for bacteria to grow
- + Replace your toothbrush – every three months, and don't let your toothbrush touch other toothbrushes. Replace it more often if you have been sick.
- + Use a toothpaste with fluoride – it can strengthen and protect your teeth

Dental offices are reopening across Virginia. Here are some things you may see when you go to the dentist:

- The dentist office may look different, some changes you might see include having your temperature taken before your appointment, wearing a mask in the building, and staying 6 feet apart.
- Your dentist may call you before the appointment to ask a few questions about your or your family member's health. Answer the questions to the best of your ability and stay home if you are feeling sick.
- Your dentist may first talk with you over the phone or through a video call. Many dentists in Virginia are able to see patients right now from the safety of your home. This new means of practicing is called Telehealth/Teledentistry.

Call your dentist if you have a dental emergency, like bad tooth pain, swollen gums or face, bleeding in the mouth that does not stop, or trauma to the face.
